TRAVEL INSURANCE INFORMATION - PILGRIMAGE MONEY REFUNDS please read carefully

Travel Insurance is a common way to protect an investment to go to the Holy Land. Insurance companies are happy to provide flight and land side coverage for a fee. Some people take advantage of it, others do not. Each must decide the risk they wish to bear on this issue.

Travel Insurance can be purchased any time, including just before flight time - however, pre-existing conditions are only covered when purchased at the time of tendering the deposit and paying for your flight. Travel Insurance premiums are never refundable, even if the deposits are refundable, because coverage begins when you tender the premium.

Pre-existing Conditions - If you have a pre-existing condition that presently permits you to travel, but that with time gets worse and prevents your travel, you may - depending on your insurance policy - have refundable to you, whatever portion of your payment is covered by insurance.

For Pre-existing conditions coverage, you must purchase travel insurance within 13 days of tendering the first deposit of $520 or payment for your flight whichever occurs first. This is a fairly common rule, but ask that question of your Altour booking agent before purchasing. If you elect to obtain insurance later, then only new health conditions are generally covered.

Since you will be prepaying for an international flight in order to be eligible to join the Pilgrimage group apart from its origin at LAX, you will likely want to seriously consider getting travel insurance. All your monies including the final payment become nonrefundable on DEC 8, 2023 but for a travel insurance covered cancellation, you may be able to get your money back after filing a claim.

Standard Provisions - The above is very standard for group travel to international destinations. However, it is possible that you can negotiate something different with an insurance company on your own, or even through the credit card company whose card you might use to book flights. You are free to purchase travel insurance from any source you desire, or to not purchase any at all and simply assume the risk of loss.

You may want to book your flights and travel insurance through Altour Travel, the company that all of the LAX originating Pilgrims will be using. Sometimes, booking through Altour will help make sure your flight is coordinated to arrive near the same time as the LAX flight.

Don't only rely on what is written above, as your situation may well require its own approach to insurance. Ask questions regarding this topic directly to Altour Travel when you register, so that you can make an informed decision.
